TO ADJUST FREIGHT RATES.

Senator Dolliver Introduces New Measure.

NOT ANTAGONISTIC

To the Railroad Companies Commission Not Given Full Power—Recourse to Courts.

IT EMBRACES ROOSEVELT'S VIEWS

Washington, Dec. 20.—Senator J. P. Dolliver, Republican, of Iowa, introduced a bill Tuesday in the Senate to simplify the railroad rate regulation measure proposed by the Interstate Commerce commission. It authorizes the commission to fix and enforce a maximum and reasonable rate to go into effect 30 days after notice. The court procedure of the commission's bill is eliminated and railroads are left free to follow their constitutional remedies in the courts. The commission is increased to seven members at a salary of $10,000 each.

It has not been the intention of Senator Dolliver to introduce the measure until after the holidays, but it was agreed at a conference at the White House Tuesday night, participated in by the President, Senator Dolliver, Secretary of State Root, Attorney General Moody and Judge S. H. Cowan, of Ft. Worth, Tex., that it would be more effective to have the measure referred to the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce immediately. In a statement Senator Dolliver says:

TO CORRECT ABUSES.

"The bill is intended to correct some of the abuses which still exist in the matter of railroad rates. It is not drawn in a spirit of hostility to the railway system of the country, but in the interest of harmony and good will between the railways and their patrons. It provides a public tribunal, impartial in its attitude, before which the shipper may present his complaint against an existing rate, and the carrier his defence of the rate. So that controversy arising out of a disagreement between the two may not be left without an effective solution.

"The bill avoids conferring upon the commission a dispensing power or any authority to disturb commercial conditions where separate markets are involved or competitive ports or 'independent railway systems. The jurisdiction is confined to the carrier complained of, and in the case of a joint rate, to the carriers participating therein. The power is given in such a case to the commissioner to investigate the subject fully, hearing all parties, and in case the rate complained of, or any regulation affecting it is found to be in violation of the Interstate commerce act, to correct it by an order requiring the carrier to fix its rates with reference to a reasonable maximum prescribed by the commission.

SUBJECT TO COURT'S ACTION.

"The bill proceeds upon the theory that such an order of the commission should go into effect at the end of 30 days unless in the meantime it is modified by a supplemental order of the commission or suspended or vacated by order or decree of the Circuit court of the United States exercising a jurisdiction in equity, which cannot be limited or in any way abridged by an act of Congress.

If such an order of the commission is found by the court to be unfair to the carrier or unjust to the public, we have the authority of the Supreme court for saying that it is the duty of the courts to vacate it. The bill is framed on the theory which the Supreme court has repeatedly held to be sound, that a well constituted commission is better able than the courts to deal with the question of railway rates and with the understanding that no jurisdiction could be conferred upon the courts to pass judgement upon the order of the commission with a view to modifying its terms.

"The bill provides for a thorough inspection of railway accounts with a view to bringing to light those inequalities which have crept into the business of transportation through the greed of influential shippers or through the pressure of competitive conditions."

Barn Destroyed by Fire.

On Saturday night Dec. 9th about 10:30 o'clock the large barn on Harvey Miller's farm, east of Madisonburg, was discovered to be on fire and in a very short time was entirely consumed. How the fire originated is a mystery, as but a short time before the fire was discovered Harry Miller, who occupies the farm, returned with his family from Madisonburg and when he stabled his horses there was no sign of fire around the premises.

After the fire was discovered the horses were safely removed from the burning barn, but 19 head of cattle and all the contents of the barn, including this year's crop, were destroyed, also the corn crib, with this year's crop of corn, and a number of outbuildings were burned.

Harry Miller had $1600 insurance on the stock in the Annville company, and Harvey Miller had $900 insurance on the barn in the Grange insurance company.

Injured at Howard

While working about some machinery at the Howard brick works Thursday morning Harry Krape, aged 28 years, had his right arm caught in such a manner as to crush it fearfully. He was brought to the Bellefonte Hospital Friday morning and it is said his right arm will have to be amputated at the elbow.

VIOLENT GALES SWEEPS COAST.

Storms on the Atlantic Have Been Most Severe.

ENORMOUS DAMAGE

Has Been Done to the Shipping—All Steamers Enter their Ports Long Overdue.

THEY REPORT PERILOUS TRIP.

New York, Dec. 19.—Incoming coastwise and West Indian trading steamers report having weathered during Thursday and Friday of the past week a succession of the most violent storms ever experienced off the Atlantic coast. Thursday's blow being of hurricane velocity. All the steamers from ports south of Norfolk were from twelve to thirty hours overdue. Many of the vessels came in with decknouses, boats and pipes badly damaged as a result of the heavy seas shipped.

The Savannah line steamer City of Memphis, from Savannah, Dec. 13, came in many hours behind regular schedule.

One of her officers, Quartermaster Nelson, was removed to a hospital with three of his ribs fractured, the injury having been sustained while he was on deck during the height of the gale. A big sea board[illegible] from the light deck work before [illegible] carried the quartermaster [illegible] first mate L. T. Stow, overboard. Stow suffered a gash in his forehead three inches long and was otherwise badly bruised, while Nelson suffered the fractured ribs. The pilot house was smashed, the wheel was broken and a number of deck beams were carried away.

BARGE AND CREW ADRIFT AT SEA

Newport News Dec. 19.—The whaleback barge Bath, loaded with 2,500 tons of coal for Boston, is adrift somewhere on the Atlantic at the mercy of the seas. In tow of the whaleback steamer Bayview, the Bath sailed from this port for Boston Thursday morning. That night the two vessels fell in with a northeast gale and after a strenuous battle the steamer and the tow reached Winter Quarter Light.

The storm increased in fury and the steamer put about to return here. As soon as she did the hawser parted and the Bath, which is without means of propulsion, was set adrift. The Bayview stood by until morning but the barge was nowhere in sight Fears are expressed for the safety of the vessel and her crew, which is composed of Captain McKenzie and six men.

STEAMER ON FIRE IN MID OCEAN.

Boston December 19th.—Captain Jepson and officers of the British steamer Arrammore, which arrived here, after an eventful and perilous passage from Antwerp were much incensed over the failure of a French freight steamer, which they believe to have been the Bordeaux, in acknowledging their signals but not offering assistance when informed that the Arrammore was on fire. On December 7th a fire started in the afterhold. The crew fought the flames for three days and owing to the fact that the vessel had on her forward deck fifty barrels of chemicals used in the manufacture of dynamite the situation was an extremely perilous one. Every man on board worked without a rest for many hours. The hatches were battered down and steam was forced into the hold.

At noon, on the 9th, while the fire was at its height, and it was feared that it would break into the forward part of the ship a steamer having one funnel and two masts and flying the French flag overtook the Arrammore, passing close aboard. Signals were hoisted by the Arrammore, stating that the vessel was on fire in the afterhold. The French vessel acknowledged the signals and informed the officers of the Arrammore that their signals were understood.

The French steamer, however, steamed steadily by, and an hour later had disappeared. That night the [illegible] and on the following [illegible] hatches were [illegible] have be[illegible]

FATHER FISHER'S GOOD WORK.

Old Historic Catholic Church Being Remodeled—Pastor a Former Centre Countian.

Father Nevin Fisher pastor of St. John's church, Thirteenth street above Chestnut, Philadelphia, is about to have his church remodeled. What makes it of interest to Centre countians is the fact that Father Fisher is a native of old Centre and is a brother of Coroner-elect, Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion. He was born in the old Fisher home at Boalsburg and the foundation of his education was laid at the old Boalsburg Academy. In 1889 when the new St. John's Catholic church at this place was dedicated Father Fisher delivered the dedicatory sermon.

In speaking of the Philadelphia church the Sunday North American says:

Quaint looking old St. John's Church Thirteenth street, above Chestnut, the mother of many Catholic churches and the shrine of some of the most prominent Philadelphia families of that faith is about to pass through the transition of things modern.

Sixty thousand dollars will be raised by its present rector, the Rev. Nevin Fisher, to replace the present dull looking front with another of Port Deposit granite supporting two granite towers surmounted by pinnacles. Only the exterior will be reconstructed, the interior having been refitted at a cost of $50,000 following its partial destruction in the great fire of six years ago.

During the 1st decade of two, St. John's occupied a striking position in the very centre of the city's business district, standing stolidly in the midst of 24 hour a day activity, it is an object that has attracted much attention with its brown walls and adjoining church yard. Persons who work at [illegible] ship because of its mass at 2 45 o'clock every Sunday morning.

With the plans in contemplation it will be an edifice at once striking and handsome. New front and side walls place it in the van of imposing buildings. In its scheme, the architectural plan will follow closely that of St. Peter's, Fifth street and Girard avenue.

Since its erection in 1831, during the administration of Archbishop Hughes, subsequently of New York, St. John's has had the most prominent Catholic families of the city on its rolls. Even now, many of the descendants of these families are pewholders, though the advance of business has scattered them.

While at the same time reducing the size of the congregation, increasing business houses have likewise changed the character of it. Frequently, however, the older members come great distances to worship in the church of their fathers. It will be to these also that Father Fisher will make his appeal for funds with which to make the proposed alterations and improvements.

The Economy of Burning Small Coal.

It is a common delusion that a small fuel must necessarily be of low calorific value, and accordingly of doubtful economic value even if it can be burned. As a matter of fact, many small fuels are of excellent calorific value and when burned with suitable appliances will show a phenomenal saving.

Again and again have I seen an evaporation of 10 pounds of water per pound of fuel obtained with slack from Welsh steam coal costing from 5 to 6 shillings per ton less than the large coal. Slack from a good Welsh steam coal is really remarkable value for money as compared with the large coal from which it is separated; generally speaking, 20 tons of such slack will evaporate fully as much water as 19 tons of the large coal, and assuming their respective costs per ton to be 15 shillings and 20 shillings, the saving to the steam user will be the difference in cost between 20 tons at 15 shillings per ton and 19 tons at 20 shillings per ton, say £4.—W. F. Goodrich, in The Engineering Magazine for December.

MORTON'S APPEAL

President of the Equitable Addresses Them

ABOUT LEGISLATURES

Insurance Business Likely to be a Subject of Great Consideration by These Bodies.

THE SOCIETY AND CAMPAIGN FUNDS

New York, December 18th.—An appeal to the policy holders in the states of the union to lend their assistance in preventing adverse legislation, is made by President Paul Morton, of the Equitable Life Assurance society in a circular letter which is being sent to policy holders. President Morton says that the insurance business is certain to be the subject of great consideration by legislatures soon to convene as a result of what has been printed and said about insurance during the last six months.

But you cannot give men character nor make them honest and preamble, resolution or enactment," says the letter. What the life insurance business needs above everything else is character, honesty and good business administration. There can be no objection to proper legislation safeguarding the business, but it should be sound and sane. The society depends upon its policy holders to see that there is no unreasonable legislation enacted. It may from time to time call their attention to measures calculated to do them harm, but under no circumstances will it be a party to any corrupt methods [illegible] ments of every state and government, and we rely on our policy holders to see that no injustice is done them.

"Any unfair insurance law or unfair insurance tag measure enacted by your state legislature injures you and reduces the dividend earnings of your policy. Your dividend would be nearly ten per cent larger if it were not for the state taxes and license fees that the society is obliged to pay."

Mr. Morton expressed the opinion that the Equitable has no right to contribute to political campaign funds, and informs the policy holders that no such contributions will be made by the society in the future. He also says that in the future the society's reserve will be invested in real estate mortgages or the securities of other well-established corporations serving those sections of the country, which produce the premiums.

He assures the policy holders that the financial condition of the society, as disclosed by a most careful examination by competent and disinterested accountants, is excellent, and that many economies already in practice and others yet to be made, will enhance its condition. He urges all policy holders to continue the payment of their premiums, and says the investigation of the society has convinced him that there is no cheaper way than this for them to have sound life insurance.

C. A. MAYER CELEBRATES HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY.

Served as President Judge of the District For 37 Years.

Friday Judge C. A. Mayer celebrated his 75th birthday anniversary at his home in Lock Haven. The Lock Haven Express says for over half a century he has resided in Lock Haven, having come to this city January 1st 1852. He entered the law office of White & Quiggle and two years later was admitted to the bar of Clinton county and at once entered upon a lucrative practice as the successor of his preceptors. Subsequently he was elected district attorney of Clinton county and served two terms to the eminent satisfaction of his constituents and with credit to himself. In 1868 when he was 38 years of age he became a candidate for president judge of the twenty-fifth judicial district, composed of the counties of Centre, Clearfield and Clinton. His competitors for the nomination were Hon. J. H. Orvis, the father of the present Judge Ellis Orvis of Centre county and ex-Judge George R. Barrett of Clearfield county. Judge Mayer secured the nomination and was elected by a large majority. In 1878 he was re-nominated and elected, serving two terms in the district as then comprised. In 1883 the district was changed to include Clinton, Elk and Cameron counties and in 1888 and again in 1898 Judge Mayer was renominated and elected. He is now serving his fourth term as judge of the 25th district and during his long career on the bench has had fewer reversals of his decisions by the higher courts than the majority of the common pleas judge of the state. A natural adaptation to the law, an extraordinary retentive memory, together with intellectual qualities of a high order and the habit of close study of legal problems, have placed Judge Mayer at the head of his profession.

Judge Mayer is as jovial at 75 as when he first came to Lock Haven over 53 years ago [illegible] people not only in this [illegible] cial district but throughout [illegible] of whom will wish him many [illegible] turns of the day. The judge is money enjoying better health than for some an' and looks as fresh and vigorous as a man at 60.

Alice Roosevelt to Wed.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Formal announcement was made late Wednesday afternoon by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt of the engagement of their daughter, Alice Lee Roosevelt to Nicholas Longsworth, Representative in Congress from the First district of Ohio, one of the Cincinnati district. Coupled with the announcement of the engagement is the additional announcement that the wedding will take place about the middle of next February.

While arrangements for the wedding have not been made, it is expected that it will occur at the White House.

Explosion May Destroy Sight.

An accident befell George S. Gearhar at Clearfield the other day, which may cause the loss of the sight of both eyes, and which, therefore, is most serious. An explosion occurred while he was cleaning out the cylinder of his acetylene machine in his yard, after he had a stream of water running through it for half an hour. It looked thoroughly cleaned and would have been perfectly safe had not water damp gas collected in the cylinder which ignited and exploded when he lit a match to look inside of it. He was painfully burned about the head and face, and will probably be permanently blind.

CHARGES OF REBATING.

Evidence of a Damaging Character.

CARRIERS AND SHIPPERS

PRESENTED TO FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Philadelphia, December 14,—As directed by United States Attorney General Moody, District Attorney J. Whitaker Thompson Wednesday began the presentation of evidence to the Federal grand jury in connection with the charges of rebating that have been brought against certain common carriers and shippers. The case before the grand jury Wednesday was that of R. D. Wood & Company, of this city, manufacturers of iron piping. The iron piping upon which a rebate is alleged to have paid, amounted to 15,000 tons, and was shipped from this city over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to Fairport, Ohio, and from there transported to Winnipeg by the Mutual Transit company's vessels and the Great Northern railway. An agent of R. D. Wood & Company, it is charged closed a contract with an agent of the Great Northern to carry the piping for 42½ cents a 100 pounds, whereas the published tariff rate is 49½ cents. The full tariff rate was paid, but the company it is alleged subsequently received a rebate of $1,500.

The witnesses called Wednesday were Thomas L. Morton, traffic manager of R. D. Wood & Company, who is alleged to have made the contract on behalf of the Wood firm; Charles M. Heald, of Buffalo, president and general manager of the Mutual Transit company; George T. Roberts, assistant auditor of the Interstate Commerce Commission; John T. Marchand, agent and general counsel of the Interstate Commerce Commission; S. P. Hazard, cashier of R. D. Wood & Company; T. B. Franklin, of the auditing [illegible], Controller of [illegible] and Reading railway, [illegible]ry Boerling, of the Donaldson [illegible]mpany, of Emans, Pa.

[illegible]t Attorney Thompson, in discussing the case, said that the information brought out before the grand jury was longer than expected. The Wood case, he said, will be completed tomorrow and that the charges against the National Essence for Coffee company, of this city, will then be taken up. The Reading railway is involved in the Wood case in that it shipped iron piping from Emans, Pa., to Buffalo, where it was placed on board vessels of the National Transit company and later turned over to the Great Northern shipment to Winnipeg.

The Reading railway and the Baltimore and Ohio railroad have been subpoenaed to produce certain books, and in this connection the District Attorney made the important announcement that all companies that produce books or documents and all individuals who appear before the grand jury will be immune from punishment.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Home of Swamp-Root

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y., on every bottle.

The Indian never liked work but he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible so that she could do the work and let him hunt, therefore he dug papoose root for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses.

Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription" skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective and protect the stomach from functional disturbance.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION is not nor ever was a "patent medicine," but it is the carefully wrought out and thoroughly tested real prescription of a real physician in a real practice.

Dr. Pierce's unparalleled success with this remedy was such that more wanted to use it than any one doctor could attend to in a private practice. This induced him to manufacture it on a sufficiently liberal scale to meet the demand.

By his own special processes, he extracts, combines and preserves the medicinal qualities of the several ingredients without the use of alcohol (using chemically pure glycerine instead), thus rendering it absolutely safe for any woman of any age and in any condition to use freely. The names of the ingredients are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root.

Miss May Rohrback, No. 73 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City, Treasurer of the Woman's Progressive Union, writes:

"I had headache, backache, and was very nervous; scarcely able to sleep more than two hours at a time. I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and was delighted with the result. Within a week I was sleeping splendidly. Continued using the 'Favorite Prescription' for eight weeks, and then stopped, for I was perfectly well. Ever since then your medicine has been my 'Favorite Prescription,' too. I recommend it to every one."

Constipation although a little ill, begets big ones if neglected. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

RUSSIAN REFUGEES ARRIVE

Five Hundred Reach New York On Two Steamers.

New York, Dec. 12.—Five hundred Russian refugees, many of them eyewitnesses of the massacre in Odessa and other Russian cities, disembarked here from the steamers Patricia and Chemnitz. Some of them told graphic and pitiful stories of their experiences. Jews who had themselves lain hidden in Odessa houses while mobs searched for them, Russian workmen of the Christian faith, strikers from the railroads, a newspaper reporter, and Germans who had long lived in Russia, joined at Ellis Island immigration station in declaring that they had been attacked irrespective of religion, that their assailants were led by police disguised in citizens clothing, and that the massacres were not race persecution, but revolution.

While telling their stories the men sometimes burst into tears, for perhaps half of the entire number had left behind them wives and children who were either dead or defenseless in Russian cities.

BULLETS CURED PARALYSIS

Remarkable Result of Murderous Attack On D. F. Rowe.

Philadelphia, Dec. 11. — The shots aimed to kill David F. Rowe really effected a wonderful cure. Prior to the murderous assault on him by his son-in-law, Casper Cooper, Rowe had been for a long time a paralytic on the right side. When taken to the Pennsylvania hospital after the shooting his death was expected in a few hours, but instead of that he left the hospital and now declares that every vestige of paralysis has left him and that he feels better than he did for years.

It is less than three weeks ago that Rowe was shot five times by Cooper, who then committed suicide. Cooper fired at his father-in-law as the latter lay helpless and paralyzed on a couch, unable to do anything to defend himself. When he left the hospital Rowe's arm still contained three of the leaden pellets, his thumb was still in splints from a wound that cut to the bone, and a cotton bandage covered a fresh scar on his breast. In spite of his 60 years he has been up and about ever since, with not a trace of paralysis left.

New Trial For Twining.

Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered a new trial for Albert C. Twining, convicted of making false entries in the reports and in the books of the First National bank of Asbury Park, of which he was a director. Twining is now under sentence of six years in New Jersey. When tried in the U. S. district court at Trenton Twining was charged with having, as a director, over-stated the amount that was due the bank from loans and discounts, including in his schedule a promissory note said to have been worthless.

A VERY LIVELY CORPSE.

A. B. Salmon Lacks the Courage to Tell His wife She is a Widow.

The following grave article copied from the Centre Hall Reporter, is self explanatory.

A. B. Salmon, secretary and treasurer of the Clinton Furniture Factory, at Lock Haven, was killed at the Normal railroad crossing Tuesday.

The above, taken from one of the city dailies, appeared in a recent issue of the Reporter, and leads Mr. Salmon, secretary and treasurer of the Clinton Furniture Company, to exclaim:

LOCK HAVEN, PA., Dec. 7, 1905.
Editor Centre Reporter, Centre Hall, Pa.

Dear Sir: I am sure you will believe me when I tell you that I am considerably surprised to learn by your last edition that I was killed at the Normal crossing in this city.

For some time I have been under the impression that I lacked vitality and energy and some of my friends have told me that I was a "dead One." but I have never taken it seriously. Seeing the same information in print and having given to it time and place persuades me that it was no joke after all and convinces me that my wife is a widow, and I really have not the heart to break the news to her (she always did look well in black).

It occurs to my dead mind that during my sojourn on earth I paid several premiums on life insurance policies and these policies are now surely due and should be looked after at once; however, as insurance just now is a dangerous subject and a suspicious one, I beg to ask your assistance in securing adjustments of these moneys and I would be glad to arrange a substantial percentage for your trouble if you succeed in obtaining settlements promptly.

As none of my kin or friends lose any time from their daily toil to attend my funeral, I naturally hesitate to ask them to attend to this, and for the reason that you seem to have interests in the case, I venture to ask you to help me out.

Any information that I can furnish, will, of course be gladly given (on the quad) and I can arrange with a discrete relative to attend to all affidavits and details.

During the interim I will remain lifeless, enjoying what I hope you may at some time be renovated for.

Yours "At Rest,"
A. B. SALMON.

The Reporter will assure living mortals that if they chance to live on this plan after their obituaries are printed in these columns they will not be molested because of an expressed opinion as to their state. Ministers, as a rule, either say plainly that their subject went to heaven, or intimate that he went to hell. The editor, if he ventures an opinion, gives the sinner the doubt—he went to heaven. He says so for policy's sake. Why the minister "arises to remark," no one seems to know.

It is not intended to cast reflection on Mr. Salmon, who was spared the humiliation of seeing his name misspelled in his obituary.

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

¶In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. ¶We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. ¶We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. ¶New trial bottles, 25c.; regular size, 75c. BEAR STORIES.

Bruin Made Noise at Midnight Banquet.

From the Lock Haven Express.

Gable Swenson, a Swede, living near Oleona, on Kettle Creek, shot a burglar dead the other night, while, a second thief escaped to the woods, where he died. His trail was easily traced in a light snow and he was found stiff and cold alongside a log, over which he attempted to crawl. The burglars were two black bears.

Swenson had butchered three shoats the day before, and had taken the dressed carcasses into his cellar, where they were hung up prior to being cut up. The shoats, dressed, averaged 140 pounds each. The door of the cellar, which swung inward was propped ajar about five inches, so that the cold air could reach the drying meat. During the night Mrs. Swenson was awakened by a noise in the cellar She aroused her husband, telling him that thieves were after their pork. Swenson, armed with a Winchester rifle and Mrs. Swenson, carrying a small lantern, stole down to the first floor. They hear a noise in the cellar, but no voices. Swenson opened the kitchen door, and from the steps above the cellar door yelled to the robbers to come out, at the same time turning loose a small dog, which by that time had become furious with excitement. It was only a moment until a black, husky form shambled out of the cellar way. Swenson shouted, "stop!" But the chap didn't stop. and the next moment Swenson's rifle cracked, and the black form went down with a squeal. Then Swenson knew what was up. The burglars were bears instead of men. A second bear ran from the cellar, but when the gun cracked a second time he kept going, disappearing in the darkness. The first bear rolled back into the cellarway, dead. On the ground floor of the cellar lay the carcasses of the three shoats, one of which had been mauled about by the bears and badly torn.

Swenson believed that he had missed the second bear, but at daybreak he found a blood trail in the snow, showing that bruin had been wounded. He had followed the trail hardly 100 yards into the woods, when he came upon the dead bear. Swenson has set traps in the Kettle Creek regions for over 20 years, but never before did he hear of a man's abode being used as a successful snare for bears, though the bait upon this occasion was a costly tid-bit of pork.

Here is a bear story from the Queen's Run region that sounds just like some of Davy Crocket's stories and the best part of it is that it is true.

Joseph Crider, of Caldwell, who is employed in the Scootac mines, was taking a short cut home a few days ago and while going up the Queen's Run hollow he saw fresh bear tracks in the snow. He followed the tracks for some distance, but finally got tired and went home.

Last Thursday Luke and Roy Crider started out with their father to hunt the "critter," and tracked it to a hole in the rocks which their father terms "the whole at the point of the hill." The father at once remarked that the bear had been in the whole but had left it. Luke proposed to creep into the hole and see the bear's nest. No sooner said than done and in goes Luke on his hands and knees, but he "backed up" somewhat precipitately, and came out of the whole faster than he went in, for Mr. Bear was in there sure enough. Roy Crider, who is a dead shot, took a peep into the hole and pumped two doses of hot lead into the hole and dragged the bear out. The bear was a big one and the Crider family will live on juicy bear steak for a while.

Scotch Weaver's Wife Bore Him 62 Children.

The record in family numbers believed to belong to Scotland. It is that of a Scotch weaver in the seventeenth century, whose wife bore him sixty-two children. Only twelve died in childhood, forty-six sons and four daughters living to be 51 and upward. This almost incredible record, says the Chicago Journal, is said to be fully and absolutely authenticated. Sir John Bowes and three other gentlemen each adopted and reared ten of this prodigious family.

A century ago there died in Jamaica a woman named Ellis. Her age was given as 118, and she was followed to the grave by 295 of her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great great-grandchildren—no fewer than sixty of whom, all named Ebanks, belonged to the regiment of militia for St. Elizabeth's parish.

MRS. ROGERS PUT TO DEATH

Vermont Murderess Hanged For Murder of Husband.

SHE MET HER FATE BRAVELY

Windsor, Vt., Dec. 9. — Without a tremor and without a word Mrs. Mary Mabel Rogers marched to her death on the gallows at the state prison here and paid the penalty of murdering her husband, Marcus Rogers, at Bennington on August 13, 1902. To all appearances Mrs. Rogers was the calmest person in the chamber of death. She faced her end with the same stoical indifference that had marked her demeanor ever since her arrest, more than three years ago. Governor Bell firmly refused to interfere with the sentence.

MRS. MARY M. ROGERS.

There were no sensational incidents in connection with the hanging.

Although the woman was not officially pronounced dead until 14 minutes and 30 seconds after the trap was sprung, she evidently suffered no pain. Her neck was broken at the second cervical vertebrae and she lost consciousness instantly the drop fell. A few feeble convulsive movements of her pinioned hands were the only evidence that vitality had survived the first shock.

Since the death watch was established Mrs. Rogers had eaten heartily, and she has slept soundly. Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Loukes, of the prison staff, comprised the death watch, eating and sleeping in the same room with the condemned woman. Margaret, the little child of the Loukes, was a frequent visitor in the cell, and her childish talk evidently eased many weary hours during Mrs. Rogers' last days and helped her to keep her mind off her own fate. During the last few days Mrs. Rogers spent a great deal of time in crocheting tokens for relatives and friends.

When the guards went to Mrs. Rogers' cell to escort her to the death chamber they found her receiving spiritual consolation from Father Delaney, her confessor, who the day before had administered the sacrament of Holy Communion to her. Down three flights of stairs from Mrs. Rogers' cell the procession wended its way. Holding her head high, Mrs. Rogers never faltered for an instant as her eyes rested on the scaffold. Unaided she mounted the steps, walked onto the trap and then seated herself in a chair. A moment later she arose, having declined an offer by the authorities to make a statement.

GAVE HER LIFE FOR CHILDREN

Mother and Five Little Ones Burned to Death In New York.

New York, Dec. 12.—A mother and her five children were burned to death in a fire in a five-story apartment house at Columbus avenue and 100th street. Two others were injured and a score or more tenants were thrown into a panic, some of them cut off from escape and several rescued by police and firemen.

The dead include Mrs. John Thomason, the mother; her 3-year-old twins and her three other children ranging from 7 months to 9 years of age.

Mrs. Thomason lost her life in an endeavor to save her children. Her body was found in her rooms with her little ones, their bodies badly burned, lying about her. Mother and children were cut off from escape by the latch of the door leading into the hall being caught.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16 1905

The Beet Sugar Interests had a hearing before the ways and means committee of the House last week on the subject of the lowering of the Philippine tariff. Whatever one may think of the revision of the tariff schedule in general, it is impossible to deny that so far as the beet sugar interests are concerned, no removal of the duty on Philippine sugar would mean their extinction. The spokesman before the committee was W. S. Humphreys and he madeout a good case for the interests of the northwest though whether his argument as applied to the country at large is correct is of course a matter of individual opinion. He told the committee that the sugar production of the Philippines was 6,000,000 tons in excess of the consumption in this country and he said that if the tariff on Philippine sugar was removed this crop would without question be dumped on the United States. He was asked by Mr. Payne why the Philippine sugar crop could not go as it had always gone to China and Japan. Mr. Humphreys replied that the bulk of the Philippine sugar refined for China was refined in English factories on English ground and that in accordance with the Brussels sugar convention it would be barred out on the grounds of bounty paying if the United States remitted the tariff. This in all probability would be true, as the English interests would be glad of any reasonable excuse to hurt the trade of the United States in any quarter of the globe. So as the case stands, the admission of Philippine sugar free to the United States looks like the extinction of the beet sugar industry. The only question that remains is what the Ways and Means Committee intends to do.

Rear Admiral Sunds, the superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis was in Washington an entire day this week in conference with the Secretary of the Navy over the eradication of hazing from the Academy. It seems that the cadets have taken the very time of all others when they were likely to turn the attentfon of Congress to themselves to break out in several fresh places at once with "hazing," "running," and first fighting, all of which are contrary to the rules of the Academy. The latest hazing case, that of Midshipman Kimbaugh, came near resulting fatally as did the fight between midshipman Meriwether. There have already been two bills introduced in Congress to severely punish hazing and fighting at the Academy, and the superintendent, who himself is an admirable old officer, has done his best to keep the matter within bonds and not have the abhorered civilians of Congress come poking around the school on an investigation trip. In desperation he has put the matter up to Secretary Bonaparte in hopes that the latter would take drastic action and expell the two cadets in question. But Secretary Bonaparte has passed the matter along to the Judge Advocate General of the navy to see whether he has the legal right to summarily dismiss a cadet, and the result will be if a few more of the midshipmen are killed or maimed by the gentle cods in existance at the Academy, that Congress will take the matter into its rude civilian hands and turn the ancient academy wrong side out and shake it, to the great benefit of the Academy.

The ways of managing editors are past finding out and truly the managing editors seem to have run mad of late on the subject of personal journalism, which is a polite way of referring to newspaper work that sticks its nose where it has no business. One of the latest and worst examples followed on the official announcement the other day of Miss Roosevelt's engagement to representative Longworth. Many of the Washington correspondents were inundated with demands for special stories. But the limit was the case of one local man who received a telegram as follows: "Wire immediately 1,000 word interview Nick Longworth's views on race suicide." Needless to say the story has not been sent yet.

ISRAEL MORRIS

Death of an Old Iron Merchant Well Known in Centre County.

Israel Morris, one of the owners of the old Snow Shoe railroad and interested in other Centre county investments died at his home in Philadelphia Wednesday. He was one of that city's pioneer iron merchants and the descendant of an old Quaker family which figured in the revolution. He was 94 years of age and his death was due to general debility. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs J. Wistar Morris, who for a number of years made Bellefonte her home.

Mr. Morris was also largely interested in the development of steamship lines and other enterprises. Being a member of the Society of Friends, he cared little about social life. He was for a few years a member of the Union League. Besides his Arch street home, he owned "Dundale," a beautiful mansion at Upton station.

He was at one time a member of the Board of Directors in the Provident Life and Trust Company of North America, the American Fire Insurance Company and other financial concerns.

Israel Morris was the son of Israel W. and Mary Hollingsworth Morris, and was born on Oct. 22, 1811, at Green Hill Farm, Montgomery county. He commenced business as an iron merchant at Sixteenth and Market streets in 1829, and in 1836 formed a partnership with Jacob P. Jones. In 1847 they were joined by Richard H. Downing.

The firm, Morris, Jones & Co., did more for the successful introduction and manufacture of American bar and sheet iron than any other firm in this country. Israel Morris retired from the firm in 1860. Andrew and Joseph K. Wheeler then joined the firm, and it became known as Morris, Wheeler & Co., of which three sons of Israel Morris—Theodore H., Frederick W. and William H.—are still members.

Mr. Morris married Elizabeth Longstreth, daughter of Isaac T. Longstreth, on September 25, 1839. His wife died seven years ago.

The funeral took place on Saturday from his home at 1202 Arch street. Interment was private.

Called by Four Congregations.

As a result of a call extended last Sunday to Rev, J. M. Rearick, of Centre Hall to become pastor of the Salem Lutheran charges near York, Pa., the clergymen will preach to four different congregations, Stayer's, St. Paul's Dover and Harmeny Grove. The call was practically unanimous. The members of the Lutheran church at Centre Hall will regret to part with Rev. Rearick, who so acceptably served that charge upwards of fifteen years. It is likely Rev. Rearick will except the call.

Man Must Vote Where he Sleeps.

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 14.—The Iowa supreme court decided that a man cannot vote where he eats, but must vote in the precinct where he sleeps. The ruling was made in the case of Dr. L. Savre, of Osage, who was acquitted on a charge of illegal voting in the precinct where he took two meals a day. The court reversed the acquittal, and Savre must stand trial for illegal voting.

HER PHYSICIANS DESPAIRED. ADVISED CHANGE OF CLIMATE.

Pe-ru-na, Used as a Last Resort, Cured Her of a Severe Attack of Catarrh of the Lungs.

MRS. IDA CALDWELL.

The Sensational Cure of Mrs. Caldwell Is the Talk of Her Acquaintances.

Mrs. Ida Caldwell, 506 Pearl street, Sioux City, Ia., Vice-President Order of Washington, writes:

"I suffered with catarrh of the respiratory organs off and on for the last three years until I thought it was chronic. My chest and lungs were irritated and I had to use the greatest care not to expose myself to chilly air or dampness as it increased my troubles.

"My physician advised me to try a change of climate, but I was unable to leave my family. Reading of the wonderful cures performed by Peruna, I bought a bottle.

"It was with the greatest satisfaction that I found it the one medicine among them all which cured me. It was relieved within three days and after two months and a half the irritation was gone, my lungs perfectly healed and my health restored."—Ida Caldwell.

Thousands of women owe their lives to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands owe their health to Peruna. Hundreds of thousands are praising Peruna in every state of the Union.

We have many thousands of letters from grateful women, with permission to use them in public print, which can never be used for want of space.

Catarrh would not be such a curse in this country if the people thoroughly understand its nature. It must be treated at once to prevent it from making inroads upon vital organs.

If you suffer from catarrh, buy Peruna to-day, for a day gained on the enemy, catarrh, means a day nearer recovery.

We have on file many thousand testimonials like the one given here. We can only give our readers a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements we are receiving. No other physician in the world has received such a volume of enthusiastic letters of thanks as Dr. Hartman for Peruna.

—Trolley cars will soon be running through the heart of Cambria county, as an electric road has just been completed from Patton to Barnesboro, a distance of twelve miles. The work of building this road was begun last spring and is one of the finest roadbeds in every respect ever constructed. This new line penetrates the rich coal lands of the county, passing through the leading towns and will be a great boon to Cambria countians. In the near future branch lines will be built to Ebensburg and also to other points, and eventually the whole country will be traversed with trolley roads. Large cars similar to those used on the Logan Valley road, in Blair county, will be run on the new road, upon which the finest passenger service will be established. It is expected that the road will be opened on Christmas day, when the first regular cars will be placed on the line,

Contains Many Provisions Necessary to be Understood.

Our automobile drivers must not forget to prepare for the new law which will become effective on January 1st next. A state license fee of three dollars must be paid and a permit secured; one of the graft provisions of the new law provides that each person who drives a machine must have a license. If an auto owner wants to allow his son to drive his machine at times, the son must also have a license, and he must change license tags every time he changes drivers. The operator is licensed, not the machine, and every form of motor machine is included, even mortor cycles. The license no matter what time of the year issued, expires on the 31st day of December of the year for which it is issued. The license is not effective until the tags are placed upon the vehicle, front and rear, and the license must be carried by the operator, for any constable or police officer may demand it. The operator must stop whenever signaled by the driver or any horse or other animal.

About Habit.

Because we have not hitherto had the best possible habits is no reason why we should not begin to form them in 1906. Professor James, who has made a profound study of habit, has furnished us with one or two excellent maxims on the subject. First, he tells us that it is indispensable to begin with "as strong and as decided an initiative as possible. Accumulate all the possible circumstances which shall reinforce the right motive. Put yourself assiduously in conditions that encourage the new way and make engagements incompatible with the old; in short, envelope your resolution with every aid you know. Never suffer an exception to occur until the new habit is securely rooted in your life. Each lapse is like the letting fall of a ball of string which one is carefully winding; a single slip undoes more than a great many turns will wind again. Let the expression of your habit be the least thing in the world, speaking genially to one's grandmother, or giving up one's seat in a horse car if nothing more heroic offers. But let it not fail to take place"—Margaret E. Sangster in Woman's Home Companion for January.

Enjoy Christmas by Helping Others.

Those blessed with an abundance should bear in mind during the approaching Christmas tide that they too have their responsibilities, and can show their gratitude for life's blessings by helping others.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES.

How They Should be Prepared for Sending Through the Mails.

Christmas trade is booming and in view of the fact that the Santa Claus mail is already quite heavy Postmaster Montgomery of this city is anxious that the people be properly posted as to how holiday goods should be sent through the mails. It is especially urged that wrappers should be strong and safely tied, as merchandise going through the mails is handled by many persons not connected with the postoffice, such as wagon drivers, railroad hands and station workmen. Bags containing such mail are often thrown on platforms from cars going at full speed, and rough usage is simply unavoidable. Care in directing mail is suggested. Mailable packages can be registered by paying 8 cents extra postage. Putting on extra postage without having registry receipt does not register anything Merchandise packages may be sent for one cent an ounce if placed so as to be conveniently examined by postoffice employes to prove there is no writing inside. If sealed to prevent such inspectionthe postage is 2 cents for each ounce.

Drug Fiend Slays Brother of Wife.

The most cold blooded murder ever perpetrated at Newcastle, this state, occurred before daylight Wednesday morning. Thomas O'Toole gained entrance, under an assumed name, to the room of his wife's brother, Roy Barber, and shot him five times, causing almost instant death.

The murder was witnessed by Mrs. Martin Tripp, at whose home Barber roomed. O'Toole escaped while Mrs. Tripp ran from the house to summon the police.

O'Toole is a cocaine fiend and became so dissolunte that his wife left him last fall and took her four year-old son to live with her father. The husband blamed his brother-in-law for this, and on Monday Barber received a letter from O'Toole, who threatened murder unless Barber induced the wife to return the son.

O'Toole arrived at Newcastle at midnight from Braddock. Almost as soon as Barber appeared at his door the man began firing.

The American Coal Trade.

If the rate of increase which has characterized the coal industry in the United States for the last ten years, or the average rate of increase for the last fifty years, should be continued, what an enormous output the next ten years will show! It will be, ten years hence, a tonnage in excess of 700,000,000 per annum. This amount is so great that one may well question if the railroad facilities of the United States will permit of such a growth. The whole freight traffic of the country today is one billion four hundred million tons. This includes duplication of tonnage to the extent of hundreds of millions, through cars of freight passing over two or more roads. It may be questioned if the actual tonnage of commodities handled by the railroads exceed in weight 700,000,000 tons, as so many shipments are counted in the freight traffic of from four to six railroads. There are some arithmetical progressions which soon reach the bounds of absurdity. Possibly the percentage increase in coal output, which the records of the past indicate is one of these. At any rate, the figures are phenomenal, indicating, by the year 1909 an annual tonnage of 501,000,000 tons. "Who can deny the potentialities of the coal trade?—F. E. Seward, in The Engineering Magazines for December.

Shaft to Murdered Editor.

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 14th.—Almost within a stone's throw of where he fell mortally wounded, January 15th, 1903, within the shadow of South Carolina's capitol, and on the widest thoroughfare of the city, a beautiful monument was unveiled to the memory of N. G. Gonzales, the editor of the State, who nearly three years ago was shot and killed by Lieutenant Governor Tillman, following a controversy growing out of editorial utterances.

The monument is a granite shaft 25 feet high, resting upon a base 20 feet square, giving it a total height of 40 feet. The monument is erected by the people of South Carolina, subscriptions for its construction having been made from every county in the state. The inscription on the four sides read as follows:

Erected by popular subscription. A tribute to the worth and services of N. G. Gonzales, born August 5th, 1858; died January 19th, 1903. "Faithful unto death." Gonzales, founder and first editor of the State. For 12 years he conducted it, with signal ability and conspicuous courage. A potent voice for civic righteousness. An influential factor in every movement for the welfare of the people. "The measure of success is not what we get out of life, but what we leave after it," editorial, December 10, 1900. A great editor. An eminent citizen; an honest man; without fear and without reproach; his fellow citizens rear this monument to perpetuate his memory.

CHRISTMAS.

Babe or Man—Which?

No event is dearer or more significant to the universal human heart than the Nativity. The star, magi, shepherds, angels, parents and babe will never lose their charm. Like the magi, the three arts, poetry, painting and music, have presented their richest gifts at the shrine of Bethlehem. The scene has been idealized and given a spiritual romance such as none other in human history possesses.

Yet, after all, it is not the "dew drops on His cradle" that really concerns us, To dwell upon the mere incident of the advent is to go back to the child age of the race which delighted in a marvel. It is not the babe but the man. What did He stand for and exemplify? What was the nature and sum of His influence? What His contribution to the human betterment?

The glory of Jesus is not that He was born, but that He still lives. He just as certainly moves among men today as when He walked in Judea and Galilee. He let loose ideals of life and conduct which live to this day. In this sense, if in no other, the words He spoke were as He said, spirit and life. In the highest possible sense He also incarnated His own ideals, so that He could say, "I speak truth; I am truth," The ideals which He has expressed in word and life are those of goodness, love and service, goodness not the negative quality of innocence, but a positive, aggressive righteousness. His ideal of love, also, was not selfish gratification, seeking its own and waiting to be ministered to, but a pure emotion of benevolence, expressing itself in self-oblivious service. In these divine ideals, Jesus lives today.

As an ethical and humanitarian force in social life, aside from the dogma of His divinity, Jesus must be reckoned by all who would fully and justly estimate such forces. The leven of His influence levens the lump. He lightens every man that cometh into the world. Reformations, individual and popular, must be traced to Him as their chief inaugurator. For example, we are on the edge of the greatest reform of modern times, the abolition of war; but it must not be forgotten that it was the Nazarene who said with authority, "Put up thy sword." It is this universal spread of His kingdom of righteousness (right-living) which will finally usher in the millennial days of universal peace and universal joy.

It is this divine immanence of Jesus in current life which gives immeasurable glory to the anniversary of his birth. He is no dead fact, stranded on the shores of the obliterious years, but living and virile yet.

What to Buy?

The national question, "What shall I buy as a Christmas gift?" is a most difficult one to solve. The chief aim of the purchaser should be to get something which will be acceptable to the recipient—whether the article be high in price or inexpensive. The taste of the person for whom the present is to be bought must be carefully considered, and that is the rock upon which a large majority of buyers wreck their hopes of peace Various are the tastes of men, to say nothing of those of the fair sex.

After all, it is the spirit behind the gift which should count. If love prompts a wife to buy an inappropriate gift for her husband he would be a hard-hearted villain, indeed, if he should show by word or look that he does not appreciate the present, over the selection of which she spent hours of worry. The husband who loves his wife will accept anything she gives him on Christmas day—pink neckties, yellow suspenders, unsmokable cigars and so on—and look happy and contented.

But, seriously—and Christmas shopping is a serious matter—men and women would save themselves much worry if they were to buy sensible gifts, the cost of which would not be a drain upon the family exchequer. And the stores are full of these giveable gifts. Select as wisely as you know how, and content yourself with the reflection that if the recipients be sensible they will not look for the cost mark on the article, but will prize it as a token of love and friendship beyond price.

$75 Made from a 25 cent Investment.

A Lock Haven young man, in payment of twenty-five cents for an oyster stew, got a seventy-five dollar prize. And this is the way he did it, as told by the Express of Monday evening.

"Harry A. Weindorf, of Lock Haven dropped into the Imperial hotel yesterday and going up to the oyster bar deposited a bran new quarter thereon with the request that he be given a dozen of the best oysters in the place. The man behind the bar proceeded at once to open the bivalves and deposit them in an oyster bucket, as it was Harry's desire to take them home to eat. Arriving at the house he carefully prepared the oysters and began the feast. As the third one struck his palate he detected a hard substance embedded in the eye of the oyster and he stopped its further progress down the 'red lane.' The hard substance proved to be a beautiful pearl which experts claim to be worth at least $75. Harry declares he never before in his life made as good an investment of a quarter."

Digestion Decides it

Life is a ceaseless struggle for success because success is supposed to insure happiness.

Ambition and ability make for success, but without health too, failures is more than probable.

If the digestion is poor, the nerves unsteady, the blood thin, the weight less than it should be, and ambition and energy at low tide because of stomach trouble, failure is almost a certainty.

Whether you make much or little of life, whether you fail or succeed, your digestion largely decides it. So confident is C. M. Parrish that Pepsikola Tablets will renew your energy, steady your nerves, drive away that tired feeling, give tone to the digestion, improve your appetite, bring up your weight to where it should be, put new color into your cheeks and new life into your stomach, that they continue to sell this grand dyspepsia remedy on the money back-plan.

Have confidence. The guarantee absolutely protects you. Mr. Parrish will gladly pay back your quarter if at the end of ten days' treatment you have not been cured or decidedly benefitted.

Overtaken by a Train on Bridge.

David Simpler, of Montoursville, a track walker on the Philadelphia and Reading railway, met a horrible fate in the Reading bridge spanning the Loyalsock creek, about 8 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Simpler was walking the track, going west, and to get out of the way of an east-bound freight train he stepped over unto the other track, when he was struck by a west-bound freight, the approach of which he failed to observe.

His skull was crushed and one leg and arm badly mangled, and his body was dragged some distance, when it fell through to the creek, breaking through the ice.

Fire and Flames.

At Petrikin Hall on Friday evening Dec. 22nd. will be presented the spectacular production of Fire and Flames which has been the feature at Coney Island, St. Louis and this fall at Pittsburg Exposition when on the opening night the young lady who leaps from the sky scraper building in to the life preserving net lost her balance before the net was spread and lost her life, now don't think because this production is produced in the hall you will not see it as good as in the Opera House. It will be just the same, as does not take stage room to put it on, and as it is for a worthy cause, while you are buying your Christmas presents, don't forget the fireman who go out all hours of night and day in all kinds of weather to protect your homes and lives and when they come to you to purchase tickets, respond cheerfully as this will be on way of giving the boys a Christmas present and a testimonial you have for them

A Curious Beast and Man.

One of the greatest curiosities among the domesticated animals of Ceylon is a breed of cattle known to the zoologist as the "sacred running oxen."

They are the dwarfs of the whole ox family, the largest specimens of the species never exceeding 30 inches in height.

Little Frank Deshon, who appears here very shortly in Smith and Englander's brilliant, musical comedy, "The Office Boy," is slightly taller than the dwarfed oxen and his success as a comedian is by no means curious. He is a happy-go lucky little chap, a perfect fount of mirth and jollity. He is a wonder; don't miss him as it is sunshine for a year to beam in Deshon's happy smile.

—Speaking of the change of Japanese ministers, it may be remarked that there is less prospect than ever of any interference on the part of the country with the Japanese protectorate over Korea. The members of the Korean legation which has been a diplomatic figure here for a number of years, are very bitter at the prospective severance of diplomatic relations. The minister, Yeung Whan Min, says that he will of course have nothing to say for publication while diplomatic relations exist, but that when they are broken off and he is nothing more than a private citizen residing in this country, he will have something to relate about the Japanese protectorate that will make interesting reading. Whether this is more than an Oriental bluff it is impossible now to say.

—The outlook for the new territorial delegate who it is announced is coming to Congress from the Isle of Pines does not promise to be very bright. Congressmen, particularly those of the Foreign Relations Committees of the House and senate are quite prepared for his appearance and the door keeper has already been given a tip that he is not to be allowed the privilege of the floor. Speaker Cannon is a caustic old party, even to the verge of looseness in conversation and when asked what would be the status of the expectant delegate replied that it would be just about the same as that of the wild man of Borneo if he should put in an appearance. When it was suggested that a resolution had already been prepared for his recognition the Speaker assented gravely with the remark, "Yes and you could put in a resolution for the resurrection of St. Paul too."

He did not say what he thought would be the outcome of a resolution of that sort, but it was evident he thought it would have about the same effect as a resolution for the recognition of the delegate from the Isle of Pines.

No More Secret Divorces.

A blow at divorces was delivered Tuesday by the judges of the Luzerne county courts when they decided that in the future all divorce proceedings must be in open court.

This will do away entirely with the private masters' hearings by which divorce scandal is effectually kept from prints. There will be six masters appointed at stated salaries, and before this tribunal divorce proceeding may be brought.

In no case, however, will newspapers be debarred from reporting the testimony before these masters, and the judges say that by securing publicity to such cases many will be deterred from seeking separation through divorce laws.

Heretofore the private master's hearing has been the favorite refuge for litigants seeking separation. No matter how sensational the testimony might be, it has been forever buried from sight in the master's report, which has never been permitted to see the light of day.

This system was declared by the judges to favor divorce. They believe that it does more than any other single circumstance to make the securing of a divorce easy.

Free From Colds.

People who can keep strong and well throughout the year very seldom have any serious trouble from colds.

Those who are constantly taking cold are persons who are weak and run down and have not the vigor to resist even a slight exposure, which would have no effect upon one who was strong and well. By building up the system with Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives a good appetite, makes the blood rich and pure and invigorates every function of the body, colds may be avoided. This great medicine expels all disease germs and impurities from the blood, thus protecting the system from serious diseases as well as from lesser ailments.

A QUESTION TO BE DECIDED!

Whether A Cadet at Annapolis Can be Dismissed Summarily.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

Must Decide This Question-Secretary of the Navy Has Asked for His Decision Inthe Matter.

DO THE DIFFERENT LAWS CONFLICT

Washington, Dec. 16.—Whether the superintendent of the Naval Academy or the Secretary of the Navy, or both conjointly, have the power summarily to dismiss from the naval academy without trail by court martial a midshipman guilty of hazing, and whether such action, if taken would prove a bar to proceedings in the civil courts for assault or other criminal elements involved in the offense, "are two questions upon which the attorney general at the request of the secretary of the navy, will render an opinion today. The character of this opinion will shape the future action of the navy department on the recommendation of Rear Admiral James H. Sands, superintendent of the naval academy, for the summary dismissal of Midshipman Trenmor Coffin, Jr., for hazing and of Midshipman Warren A. Vandeveer for countenancing the practice. If Attorney General Moody rules that the Secretary has such power, these midshipmen will be summarily dismissed from the academy. If such power is lacking, their immediate trial by court martial will be ordered. Otherwise Secretary Bonaparte, will direct that action be brought against the dismissed midshipmen in the courts of Maryland.

The doubt in the mind of the navy department regarding the limits of its jurisdiction arises from the apparent conflict between an act of June 23, 1874 which calls for the trial by court martial of cadets found guilty of hazing, and that of March 3, 1903, which provides that "any cadet found guilty of participating in or countenancing such practice shall be summarily dismissed.

Hazing at the Academy was the subject of two conferences yesterday between Admiral Sands, who arrived here on an early train from Annapolis, and Secretary Bonaparte. The Admiral informed the Secretary that the cadet officers and cadet petty officers at a conference which the admiral held with them several days ago, voluntarily pledged him their support in his insistence upon a strict obedience to all rules of the academy.

The opinion is expressed at the department that hazing has existed at the naval academy for a long time under cover. Admiral Sands returned to Annapolis yesterday afternoon, where a thorough investigation of the conditions there affecting midshipmen life is in progress. A search is being made for evidence against midshipmen who have hitherto been guilty of hazing and these as well as any hereafter apprehended will be recommended for dismissal.

A Modern Bluebeard

or the adventures of a Female Sherlock Holmes a realistic romance founded on fact by Fanny May. You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thought came to the author's mind to write this story. Though purely a romance, many of its most sensational and dramatic scenes are based on fact. It is a startling expose of a wicked man's wiles. This realistic romance begins in No. 1644 of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER

HAZING PRACTICES MUST NOW STOP!

Navy Department in Earnest About Annapolis

TWO MEN EXPELLED

One for Hazing and the Other for not Reporting It—R S. Schwaz. of the Stroudsburg Normal School Convicted.

VERDICT CAUSED A SENSATION

Washington, December 15th.—Hazing of every kind it was announced today, will be stamped out of the Naval academy, regardless of the number of dismissals from the brigade of midshipmen necessary to bring about these rules.

Two midshipmen will be dismissed from the academy within a few days by the Secretary of the navy, the one for hazing and the other for countenancing it by failure while on duty to report its occurrence. Other dismissals will follow as often as midshipmen are found guilty of hazing or countenancing it.

Aroused by the condition of affairs which reports show to exist at the academy so far as the treatment of fourth classmen is concerned. Secretary Bonaparte late this afternoon telephoned Rear Admirable Sands, superintendent of the academy, requesting him to come to Washington as soon as possible for a conference. This conference will be held to-morrow. It will be the initial step in a new and vigorous campaign to be waged at Annapolis against hazing. Admiral Sands will have the unqualified support of the navy department in his efforts to abolish the evil, and Secretary Bonaparte today announced that the admiral possessed the full confidence of the officials here in his ability to handle the situation to the entire satisfaction of the department. Congressional investigation of conditions at the academy has already been proposed in a resolution introduced in the house this afternoon by Representative Loud, of Michigan.

Briefly these are today's developments in the movement against hazing at the Naval academy. When Secretary Bonapart reached the navy department today he received an official report from Admiral Sands announcing the suspension of Midshipman Trenmor Coffin, Jr., third classman for the hazing of Midshipman Jerdone Pettus Kunbrough, fourth class man, by forcing him to stand on his head until he became unconscious. and of Midshipman Warren Abbe Van Derveer, second class man, because while on duty he observed the occurrence and failed to report. The superintendent called attention to the fact that Midshipmen Coffin and Vanderveer were guilty of violating a well known regulation for the government of the Naval academy and recommended their summary dismissal in accordance with an act of congress approved March 3rd, 1903.

COUNCIL OF GRAFTING.

Stroudsburg, Pa., December 15.—R. F. Schwarz, a trustee of the East Stroudsburg State Normal school, who has been on trial on the charge of selling supplies to the school contrary to law, was found guilty. The verdict has created a sensation here.

The jury in the case of George E. Stauffer, also a trustee, who is accused also of selling supplies to the school, retired late Thursday, and a verdict is expected by morning.

Harrisburg, December 15.—Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Martin Thursday evening announced the dismissal of R. F. Schwarz, of Monroe county, as farmers' institute treasurer. This action by the deputy secretary was taken immediately after he learned of Schwarz's conviction in the Monroe county courts Thursday on the charge of furnishing supplies to the East Stroudsburg Normal school, of which he is a trustee, which is contrary to the law. Schwarz has been a farmers' institute lecturer in the pay of the department for several years.

PATRONIZE HOME MERCHANTS.

And Home Merchants Should Not Neglect to Tell the People What They Have to Sell.

Just now the great mail order houses are flooding the country with their catalogues with a view of securing cash ten to thirty days in advance for goods. People who are obliged to buy on tick of their home merchants, nine or ten months in the year, ought not to allow themselves to be humbugged by those greedy firms who are building up the greatest monopolies on earth, Na person should send away for goods without first giving the home dealer a chance to figure on the bill. Home merchants can and do save you money and never have cheek to demand the cash thirty days, or even one day in advance, If you are in the habit of patronizing mail order houses, just give the home merchant an opportunity to figure on your next bill before mailing the order, and you will be surprised.

The above is the gospel truth, but then the home merchants who try to do business without advertising are the only ones that the mail order houses affect. The wide-awake, progressive, up-to-date, home merchant tells people what he has to sell, and the price he charges, and nine times out of ten he can give his customers better goods for their money than the mail order houses. But the mail order houses have learned that advertising pays and they keep "everlastingly at it" and draw the trade. There are merchants in Bellefonte today losing plenty of money who do not have nerve enough to spend a few paltry dollars in advertising to keep the money at home.

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied. Your doctor is the best adviser. Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

An Engineer's Find.

Wednesday morning the engineer on the east bound freight train spied two watches, a necklace, photograph of a lady, and several other trinkets, lying at the tool house east of Centre Hall station.

The articles were undoubtedly part of a plunder secured by robbers, who did not want to run the risk of being caught with stolen goods that might be identified.

A further investigation by Assistant Station Agent Ishler, revealed a bunch of twenty or more receipts, which indicates that depredations had been committed by the disgorgers at Renovo. One of the papers reads as follows:

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Bellefonte.

Cures that last are cures that tell.

To thoroughly known the virtues of a medicine you must investigate the cures and see if they prove permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Bellefonte

People who testified years ago to relief from backache' kidney and urinary disorders, now declare that relief was permanent and the cure purfect. How can any Bellefonte sufferer longer doubt the evideuce?

J. Curtis Johnson, 365 E. Bishop St., says: "I think even more of Doan's Kidney Pills now than I did in 1897 when I made a statement for publication recommending them. I had been suffering at that time for more than a year with backache and lameness through the loins. At times I was so weak that I could not lift anything and if I stooped it was almost impossible for me to straighten up. When driving there was a steady aching over my kidney the whole time. I felt dull and tired and lacked ambition. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills from F. P. Green's store I was soon cured of a combination of troubles that had very quickly. My wife used Doan's Kidney Pills, she and was cured and has generally as well. We highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and have been recommending them ever since I gave my first endorsement in 1897."

Foley's Honey and Tar
for children, safe, sure. No opiates.
C. M. Parrish

—If you haven't time to exercise regularly, Doan's Regulets will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, healthful action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c

A LAXATIVE Cough Syrup

THE NEW IDEA

THE ORIGINAL

The Red Clover Blossom and the Honey Bee on Every Bottle.

"A Cold or a Cough nearly always produces constipation—the water all runs to the eyes, nose and throat instead of passing out of the system through the liver and kidneys. For the want of moisture the bowels become dry and hard."

KENNEDY'S LAXATIVE HONEY AND TAR

Cures Colds by working them out of the system through a copious action of the bowels.

Cures Coughs by cleansing and strengthening the mucous membranes of the throat, chest, lungs and bronchial tubes.

For Croup, Whooping Cough, La Grippe, Influenza, Bronchitis, and all Coughs, Colds, Lung and Bronchial affections no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar. Children like it.

Put up in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles at the Laboratory of E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Bellefonte's stores look very attractive in their holiday attire.

—A good place for a young man to rise is in a big insurance company office—that is if he is a son of the President.

—After the holidays then the preliminaries leading up to the February elections. In this every man can take a hand.

—Miss Susie Donachy, daughter of Samuel Donachy, while out on the play ground at the Academy, fell and broke her arm.

—There is reason to believe that the mine workers are anxious to avoid a strike, and will do so if better counsels prevail.

—The Brockerhoff House put into service on Monday a handsome new bus. It was built for them by L. C. Bullock of Milesburg.

—Miss Jane Furst entertained a number of friends at dinner Wednesday evening at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Furst.

—Another lock jaw cure has been reported, this time in New York. The best that can be said is to express the hope that it is true.

—The city of York wants a federal building to cost $490,000. Evidently York hasn't found out that the days of extravagance are past.

—There will not be a picnic connected with the building of the Panama canal. It is a difficult job but American skill can accomplish it.

—Just as we go to press we have received information that Hon. George W. Atherton has resigned as President of State College to take effect at once.

—Rev. W. M. Rearick will after the first of January occupy the Harbaugh residence on Curtin street, moving there from East Lamb street where he now resides.

—Mr. John L. Solt of Pittsburg and Sarah A. Daley of Curtin, were united in marriage at the U. B. Parsonage on Friday evening at 6:30 by the Rev. A Davidson.

A. H. Rowan, of Snow Shoe, one of the Pennsey's trustworthy engineers, was a caller at the Republican office Saturday and advanced his subscription to the 1906 mark.

—Four neat and attractive signs each bearing the fateful legend "Stop! Look and Listen" have been placed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company at the railroad crossing over High street.

—The Chinese Laundry located in the McBride building has been moved into the room next to Shuey's store formerly occupied by S. H. Williams. The room was refitted for this purpose.

—A slight fire took place about noon Friday at the home of John Bryan near the Electric light works. The fire was on the second floor in a bed and was soon put out with no serious damage. No one seems to know how it caught.

—A petition from ex-Queen Liliuokalani, asking for the payment of $10,000,000 to her, was presented to the senate by Vice President Fairbanks. The petition was accompanied by an autograph letter requesting early and favorable consideration.

—William Brown and Robert Montgomery, both of this place, have been appointed privates in the State Constabulary now being organized. Their headquarters if they decide to accept the appointment will be at Punxsutawney. The salary is $720 a year for privates.

—Col. W. J. Maxwell's famous fire and flame show, something entirely new will appear at Petrikin Hall, Friday evening December 22nd, 1905. This is one of the finest moving picture shows on the road and the views shown are entirely new. It will be for the benefit of the Undine Fire Company and as the boys do not expect to have their usual New Years ball or in fact any other entertainment this winter, they deserve a large patronage at this time.

—The departure of the Japanese Minister from Washington will it is understood be followed by the appointment of Banron Kaneko to that post. It has not yet been officially announced that Mr. Takahira will not return but it is pretty generally understood. Baron Kaneko was in this country last summer during the progress of the peace negotiations at Portsmouth and while he was not officially connected with the mission, it is understood that he really was the direct representstive of the Mikado and that all of his several calls at Oyster Bay were connected with phases of the negotiations h at could not very well be made public.

—A new roof has been placed on the building occupied by the Republican office.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hughes are rejoicing over the birth of a young son, who came to their home at the Academy last Friday.

—The Jury Commissioners were busy last week filling the Jury wheel for 1906. L. A. Schaeffer was appointed by Judge Orvis as their clerk.

—The little girl that came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wagner near Tusseyville, received an unusually hearty welcome. It is the first child in the family.

—The scarcity of game in Berks county is attributed to foxes. Many members of hunting organizations are pledged not to shoot the animals. Farmers have organized to destroy them.

—Don't forget the Charity Ball in the Armory on the evening of December 27th. The price of the tickets will be 50 cents and it is for the benefit of the Bellefonte Hospital. There will be good music, dancing and choice refreshments.

—It is a great pity that some young people, who might have an honorable and successful career in life, seem bent on going to destruction and carrying others down with them. There are too many sad illustrations of this right here in Bellefonte.

He was dragging a hog by the means of a hook, and in some manner fell, causing the hook to release and strike his left wrist. The wound was dressed by Dr. H. S. Braucht.

—When you work, don't make a fuss. The noisy sizzle of the locomotive is not force. All force is silent. The heehaw of a mule may startle, but it is not as dangerous as his hind legs. Bear in mind that it is only the empty wagon that makes the noise while in motion. The noise of the drum is due to the fact that there is nothing in it.

—With a lighted oil lamp in her hand Miss Bertha Strohmeier, of near Centre Hall, tripped on the stairway and fell to the bottom. The lamp, fortunately, was thrown beyond her and did not ignite her clothing. Mrs. Strohmeier, who was near by, opened the front door and pitched the burning lamp out. A Woman's Voice for the Curfew.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:

If we could all see in country towns as well as in cities, that lounging about the street corners and in the darkness, of boys and girls, is the one great source of all evil, no one, I am sure, could raise a voice against the curfew.

It is inconceivable how any father or mother can object to such help toward the protection and well-being of their children, that they do object only be explained by the fact that they wish to be bothered as little as possible and allowing children to run the streets at night is one way to be rid of that bother. Some say an infringement upon personal liberty, what an argument for children, then present personal liberty is of more consequence than future personal good character. There should be no personal liberty for children except that of permission.

Children, in our day, have too much liberty given them, they are made old, almost before they are young. Keep them off the streets at night, keep them away from the lounging places of older persons and they will be the better men and women for it. The curfew law will do this, why not give it a trial in Bellefonte
